

Accepted disabling claims and workers' compensation covered employment in educational services (NAICS 61), Oregon 2006-2010

The Educational Services sector comprises establishments that provide instruction and training in a wide variety of subjects, such as schools, colleges, universities, and training centers. These establishments may be privately owned and operated for profit or not for profit. They may also offer food and accommodation services to their students. Educational services are usually delivered by teachers or instructors that explain, demonstrate, supervise, and direct learning in diverse settings, such as educational institutions, the workplace, or the home through correspondence, television, or other means.

Public schools and universities are classified according to their respective government ownership.

Footnotes:

Accepted disabling claims are claims, accepted by insurers, arising from occupational injuries or diseases that entitle workers to compensation for disability or death.

Industry is classified according to the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS), 2002 edition. Claims from employees of client leasing firms are reported in the industry in which the claimant was working at the time of injury.

This industry only includes claims and employees in the private sector. Establishments owned by state and local governments are categorized according to their respective ownership.

Employment figures are based on the Department of Consumer and Business Services' estimation of Oregon employment covered by workers' compensation.

Claims rates represent the number of accepted disabling claims per 100 workers.

Source data are continually updated to be as accurate as possible, so report results may vary over time.
