Insurance Division Organization

The Insurance Division, to protect the insurance-buying public, regulates insurance companies, agencies, and agents doing business in Oregon. Activities include licensing, monitoring, examining, and investigating. The division also collects and audits premium taxes on insurance companies.

Administrative Services and Operations

In addition to providing administrative support to the Insurance Division, the Administrative Services and Operations Section receives and reviews applications and appointments for agents, firms, and corporations licensed to sell insurance in the State of Oregon. The section establishes licensing requirements for insurance agents, oversees the development and administration of licensing examinations, and processes continuing education course registrations.

Administrative Services and Operations develops legislation and administrative rules, and tracks legislation during the legislative session. The section is also responsible for developing the budget of the Insurance Division.

Company Regulation

Most insurance policies offered for sale in Oregon must first be submitted to the insurance administrator for approval. The Company Regulation Section oversees the form approval process; the policies that insurance companies offer to consumers are reviewed for legality and fairness. Property and casualty and health pricing systems are also reviewed to ensure that systems are not inadequate, excessive, or unfairly discriminatory. In some cases, advertising and marketing practices are also reviewed. Additionally, the section provides objective data and testimony to the Legislature on property and casualty issues.

Company Regulation Section is also responsible for the licensing and examination of all domestic and foreign insurers. Company Regulation activities include maintenance of files on approximately 1,500 licensed insurers; review of annual financial statements; review of applications to transact insurance business in Oregon; collection of premium and retaliatory taxes from insurers, which amounted to $69.5 million in general fund moneys in Fiscal Year 1996; supervision of all surplus lines business in Oregon; and maintenance of security deposits by licensed insurers. The section also reviews applications for information of risk retention and purchasing groups under the provisions of the Liability Risk Retention Act of 1986.

Examination activities include examination of the financial condition, market conduct, and insurance operations for all insurers domiciled in Oregon at least once every three years, as well as participation in the examination of other foreign and alien insurers. Additional responsibilities include administration and review of filings for new company formations and applications for mergers and/or acquisitions of domestic insurers. The examinations staff also supervises the rehabilitation and liquidation activities involving domestic insurers.

Consumer Protection

Consumer Services and Enforcement Section responds to complaints and concerns brought to the attention of the insurance commissioner involving insurance transactions. Inquiries and complaints are received by phone, letter, and in person. When there is reason to believe that the insurance code or administrative rules have been violated by an individual, agent, agency, or company, an investigation may be conducted and evidence may be presented at a formal hearing. This section also conducts workers' compensation premium audit and classification hearings, as well as sanction, rate and rulemaking hearings. In addition, alternative dispute resolution provides a more cost-effective means of resolving workers' compensation premium audit and medical service provider fee disputes.

Consumer Advocacy, created in 1987 as a part of the department is intended to make the insurance industry and the regulatory process more responsive to consumer needs and concerns. The Consumer Advocacy program assists insurance consumers through a three-pronged approach: public education; representation in ratemaking and rulemaking hearings; and advocacy for consumers in the legislative process.

Explanation of Terms Used in Tables

The next several pages show the accounting results of each company for each line of insurance as categorized in the financial reporting format required. These categories do not provide information about some specific insurance coverages (such as products liability) or classes of insureds (such as houses less than five years old). These figures are accounting data intended for use in evaluating the financial condition of each company.

Comparing premiums and losses in this form provides only a rough indication of how appropriately priced each line of business may be for all companies combined. The results reported for a single line, company, and year are subject to considerable variation as well as artificial mechanics of accounting procedures.

“Direct” is the term used to describe insurance transactions between the insurance buyer and the insurance company before or without regard to reinsurance transactions among insurance companies.

“Premium written” is usually defined as premium billed by property and casualty companies. Rules of life insurance accounting require reporting premiums actually collected. This item is a measure of marketing activity in this state for the year.

“Premium earned” is constructed from premium written this year and in previous years, and in some instances, premium to be written in the future for current coverages. It is approximately the pro rata portion of the premium charged for each policy, for the portion of coverage provided, within the calendar year.

“Unearned premium reserves” are premiums written for future coverage. This might also be understood as the amount an insurer would have to return to policyholders if it canceled all policies in force. This amount of revenue is deferred from earnings to achieve a proper matching with losses and expenses incurred.

“Losses paid” is the sum of all payments made during the year to, or for, the benefit of insurance claimants. These payments include amounts paid in the current year for claims arising from coverage in prior years, and exclude amounts which will be paid in future years for claims arising from the current year. Hence, this item is not a measure of the actual cost of current coverages, but only of current cash flows.

“Losses incurred” equals losses paid, plus a year-end estimate of future payments for all current and prior year claims, minus the losses incurred estimate for the preceding year. If these estimates were to be exactly correct, then losses incurred would be the actual cost of all claims on coverage provided during the current year. However, incurred losses reported also includes estimated amounts unpaid for incurred-but-not-reported (IBNR) claims.

“Losses unpaid” is the insurer’s estimate of amounts to be paid in the future for coverage provided in the current or prior years. This includes claims which might not yet have been reported and claims which have not yet been resolved.

“Dividends paid” is the amount paid to policyholders under participating agreements. These dividends are paid to policyholders after coverage for which they have paid premiums expired. The premiums for which dividends have been paid in the current year are almost entirely written and earned one to two calendar years before. Hence, dividends paid in 1995 are not strictly comparable to 1995 premiums. Dividends paid to company stockholders are not included.

“Annuity considerations” are revenue received for annuity contracts during the latest year. This amount corresponds to premium written for insurance contracts. ‘Consideration’ is a term from contract law for payment given by one party to obligate the other to performance specified by contract.

“Insurance in force” is the total amount of coverage provided by policies that are in force at a specified moment. These are policies that have become effective and have not expired or lapsed. This construct is primarily meaningful for life insurance or other insurance where a stated amount of coverage is purchased.

“Benefits paid” is the amount paid in performance of obligations imposed by life or annuity contracts. This corresponds to ‘losses paid’ and includes amounts paid during the current year for obligations incurred in prior years, but does not include amounts insurers are obligated to pay in future years. This is a cash flow item only and not a measure of profitability or the cost of current coverages.

“Loss ratio” equals losses incurred divided by premiums earned. This is the best accounting representation of the portion of each premium dollar that has been needed to honor the company’s promise to pay claims. The figures shown are subject to many artificialities of insurance accounting, such as those explained above, as well as considerable variation between years and among companies.

The permissible or expected loss ratios differ according to the organization and marketing methods used by each company, the line of business, and the particular coverage within a line. Fidelity and surety insurance companies, for instance, expect losses to be infrequent and the insurers to have recovery rights. Title companies also provide a loss prevention service with infrequent losses expected.

The reports for property and casualty and life companies were obtained from the companies' Annual Statements, "Direct Business in the state of Oregon during 1996," as filed with the insurance commissioner. For informational purposes, the Oregon experience of non-authorized (unlicensed) insurance companies is shown separately. ORS 735.410 allows a licensed "surplus lines" agent under certain circumstances to place business with companies other than those authorized by the insurance commissioner to transact business in Oregon. Since these companies are authorized by the regulator of some other state, or country, the NAIC receives their Annual Statements.

A list of authorized insurers is available on request from the Insurance Division as a separate publication. Data contained herein for fraternal, health care service contractors, mortgage guaranty and title companies have been manually compiled by the Information Management Division.
